

Join us on January 14 for the Cuna Maya Volunteer Day

Cancun know as Cuna Maya. For one day, the group will contribute, collaborate, and celebrate with this community.

The Cuna Maya community emerged as an area on the outskirts of Cancun in need of support for it's exceptionally large number of woman and children. Over the past several years, Terrill and Mike Esposito charged forward to build a children's home in the community and provide support through sustainable additions-like connect small business owners with microloans.

Since 2010, Capstone has joined Terrill and Mike in their vision of providing sustainable opportunities to this community, namely literacy. This year, Capstone is proud to join the Cuna Maya community on January 14 to provide continued support to the community.

What: Come prepared to provide much needed support to the community. While we are still finalizing projects, many activities will be hands-on and manual. We'll end the day with a meal and program with the community.

Where: Transportation will be provided to the community and back to the hotel via coach bus. Cuna Maya is 45 minutes from our hotel.

Who: all attendees to the national meeting are invited (including guests) but extending your stay is at your expense.

When: Saturday January 14, 2017 8:00 am-4:00 pm.

RSVP: Sign up to volunteer when you register at the meeting. For questions, please contact Angie LaCompte
